FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

MUCHMORE RESIGNS FROM EIU FOUNDATION BOARD

CHARLESTON -- Eastern Illinois University Foundation Board of Directors member Dennis Muchmore of Lansing, Mich., has resigned from the board for personal reasons.

During a Nov. 29 conference call meeting, the Foundation Board of Directors accepted Muchmore's resignation with regret and expressed their appreciation for his expertise, service and personal philanthropy with regard to the EIU Foundation, according to Barbara E. Hilke, Foundation executive officer.

Muchmore, in a letter to Foundation Board President Ramona Roberson, cited the need to reassess his activities and future direction as the primary reason for stepping down, Hilke said. He also expressed appreciation for having the opportunity to serve his alma mater and noted that it has been "one of the most gratifying points of my personal and professional career."

Muchmore, a 1968 Eastern graduate, is a lobbyist's consultant with Muchmore, Harrington Associates in Lansing.

In other action, the board elected Jon Laible, Ph.D., of Charleston, former
